

Rosemary & Rue // Brooke Lunderville

for seanan, of course.

The moment I met you, I took a dislike
You were surly and rude; we were too much alike
Now my heart's only wish is to keep faith with you
But all I can offer's rosemary and rue

Em Am
Dm Am
G Am F
Em Am F

Rosemary and rue, rosemary and rue
By cut grass and copper, just this can I offer
A lonely bouquet of rosemary and rue.

G Am
Am - Em Am
Am G E Am

Like a fool I believed when your green-apple eyes
Proclaimed me a hero in apple-green lies
I gave you my oath that I would help you flee
I promised to save you; instead you saved me

Em Am
Dm Am
G Am F
Em Am F

Rosemary and rue, rosemary and rue
By cut grass and copper, just this can I offer
A lonely bouquet of rosemary and rue.

G Am
Am - Em Am
Am G E Am

The curse of the evening roses may fade but your dying glance at me a new curse has laid
It was not I who killed you, but I who betrayed
And I'll count now forever the cost that you paid

Em Am
Dm Am
G Am F
Em Am F

Rosemary and rue, rosemary and rue
By cut grass and copper, just this can I offer
A lonely bouquet of rosemary and rue.

G Am
Am - Em Am
Am G E Am

By rowan and ash, that is all I can do

Am G Am